FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q. Who is my Security Administrator?

A. You can find out who your Security Administrator is by clicking the My Administrators link. You will see a list of all users in your organization with administrative responsibility.

Q. Nobody has responded to my request for a package or site code. Now what?

A. Your request was routed to your Security Administrator. You can send a reminder email to your Security Administrator by viewing your profile, then clicking the View Pending Requests link. You will have an opportunity from that screen to remind your Security Administrator to evaluate your request or you can cancel the request.

Q. How do I withdraw a request for a package or site code?

A. You can withdraw your request by clicking View Profile and then click View Pending Requests. You can cancel your request from that screen.

Q. How do I request additional site codes?

A. Click on View Service Packages, then click the sub-package that you wish to request additional codes for. Click Request Site Code. Your request will be routed to your administrator.

Q. Why don't I see the package or sub-package I want on the list of requestable packages?

A. If you have already have been approved or already have a pending request for that package or sub-package, you won't see the package on the list. Keep in mind that if you are trying to find a specific service, it may be bundled in a package with a different name. Check the package description to view the services it contains.

Q. My Security Administrator has left the company. Now what?

A. The first step is to determine who the new Security Administrator should be. The new Security Administrator can send an email to portalsupp@covisint.com requesting the change.

Enter the following information in order to receive a GMIN and GMID. The information provided on this screen will be used to attempt to find an existing GMIN. Fields with an * are required.

*Birth Day

*Birth Month

The GM Identification Number is a field which GM will use as a unique identifier for each individual user. If the user does not have a GMIN and this field is left blank, a new GMIN will be generated when the new ID is created for GM. The GMIN will be displayed to the user on the User Profile page in the Covisint portal.
